Britain Denies Statement That "England And America Treading Path Leading To War"

WHITE SOX PLAYERS GO ON TRIAL MARCH 14TH

CHICAGO, February 9.—Trial of the Chicago-American League baseball players, indicted for alleged complicity in "throwing" the 1919 world's series to the Cincinnati National League team, was today set for March 14. George (Buck) Weaver and Oscar (Happy) Felsch were in court at the preliminary hearing, but the others were represented only by attorneys.

Judge William E. Dever directed the state's attorney to start extradition proceedings against any defendants in whose cases there was doubt as to their intention to be in Chicago by the date set for the trial. "All these defendants must be in court here March 14," said Judge Dever.

Besides Weaver and Felsch, the list of defendants includes Eddie Cicotte, pitcher; Claude Williams, pitcher; Joe Jackson, outfielder; Fred McInnis, infielder; Arnold Gandil, first baseman; and Charles Kilsberg, shortstop, and the following who are accused of having manipulated the betting on the games: Hal Chase, former, Chicago, Cincinnati and New York first baseman; William Burns, former White Sox pitcher, and now of Texas; Joseph J. Sullivan, of Boston and New York; Richard Brown, of New York, and Al Attel, former champion feather-weight pugilist.

COLUMBUS, O., February 9.—Garry Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati club, was here today to confer with Governor Davis, Attorney General John G. Price and legislative leaders relative to a bill recently introduced in the Ohio legislature for clean baseball.

Mr. Herrmann was delegated by the advisory baseball council to consider this and similar legislation in other states with a view to preventing crooked baseball. The Ohio bill introduced by Representative Greene, of Mahoning county, would make it a felony, punishable by a penitentiary sentence and a fine of $10,000, for any baseball player to accept a bribe to "throw" a ball game. Similar bills have been introduced in other states. Mr. Herrmann said it was the desire of the advisory baseball council to have the laws on this subject uniform, and that he has asked Attorney General Price, of Ohio, to work out a model law.

"Sniper" Didn't Worry Him

CINCINNATI, O., February 9.—Alvin Hickman refused to become excited when two bullets fired by a "sniper" crashed through a window of his kitchen, passed over his head and penetrated a wall.

"Guess it was some one who did not care," Hickman remarked in low voice when a police lieutenant questioned him as to the reason for the attempt to assassinate him. He again seated himself at a table in front of the window and resumed a game of solitaire which the shooting had interrupted. Hickman, who came to Cincinnati recently from Bowling Green, Ky., said he might have been the victim of mistaken identity.

Fall And Daugherty, Cabinet Prospects, Snapped At Capitol

It is generally believed that when Senator Fall left President-elect Harding after spending several days with him in Florida and returned to the capital, that he carried with him Harding's cabinet selections. These selections included himself for secretary of the interior, and Harry Daugherty for attorney general. Fall and Daugherty conferred at Washington following Fall's arrival and it is believed they discussed the appointments and other matters of political import. Daugherty was Harding's pre-convention campaign manager.

CONGRESS HAS GENUINE ECONOMY STREAK; IN HURRY TO RETURN TO NORMALCY

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—No better proof of the tendency to return to normalcy in a hurry could be given than in the overwhelming vote by which both Houses of Congress have just passed over President Wilson's veto the bill to reduce the army from 250,000 to 175,000.

Democrats joined the Republicans not because of any desire to take a slip at the White House but because as several members explain it today, public opinion in all parts of the country is insistently demanding that Congress economize and reduce taxes. Neither party dares stand in the way of the pruning knife and while as is customary during wars of economy, some worth while appropriations are lost in the shuffle, the desire to cut down the size of the army proceeded rather from a feeling that for the next few years at least there would be more than enough ex-service men in the country to respond instantly to an emergency call.

Congress Depends On Veterans.
Back of the fight for a larger army has been the argument that while the number of privates might be reduced, officers could not be kept unless the army organization were large enough to hold them. But there, too, members of Congress seem to feel that plenty of officers will be available for the next few years at least out of the ranks of the world war veterans.

President Wilson sent his veto message upon the advice of Secretary Baker, who of course, lives in the act.

Face Washing For Girls With False Complexion

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., February 9.—Birmingham girls with hectic complexions, artificially produced, are in for a face washing whenever they appear on the streets in the future, according to Mrs. Hulda Newsome, police-woman. Mrs. Newsome declared today that whenever she sees a young girl with a "chalky complexion, cheeks of brilliant red, vermilion pigment on her lips, and her nose powdered she feels like escorting her to the nearest bath room and administering to her face a liberal dose of soap and water, and I am going to do it, too," she said.

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 9.

After making some minor changes the committee plans to approve the substitute tomorrow.

As drafted by Chairman Colt, the substitute would affect largely immigrants coming from Europe. Besides Japanese nationals, aliens who would specifically be exempted from the provisions would be those from China, Canada, New Foundland, Cuba, Mexico, Central America, South America and nations with which treaties exist regulating immigration.

Housewives Close Butcher And Baker Shops By Boycott

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Feb. 9.—Forty-five butcher and baker shops were closed here today and housewives who for days have boycotted and picketed the places, were jubilant. They demand lower prices for meat and bread, but the retailers claim prices can not be cut until wholesale quotations drop.

A mere man, ignorant of the boycott, bought two dozen rolls yesterday. On leaving the bakery, women attacked him, flung the rolls into the gutter, and pursued the innocent buyer down the street. Other attacks occurred in various parts of the city and today shop owners figured caution the better part of business, and remained home. Unemployment conditions have embittered many consumers against retailers, it was said.

Harding Wants Passage Of Resolution Declaring War With Germany At End

BY ROBERT T. SMALL
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

2. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 8.—When Warren Harding as President of the United States sends his first message to the extra session of Congress he will ask for immediate passage of the Knox resolution declaring the war against Germany and Austria at an end. Europe has been at peace and virtually full relationship with Germany for nearly two years; America still remains in the role of a belligerent.

Mr. Harding will announce that immediately the resolution of peace is passed by congress and approved by himself, he will undertake the negotiation of a commercial treaty with what was once the German Empire. This commercial treaty may be made

Governor Names Committee To Study New Tax Program

Dyer, Cullinan, secretary of the Ohio Home Protective League, representing the farmers; F. H. Churches Placed Under Guard

Prisoner May Be Legally Dead But Eats Three Square Meals A Day

BATON ROUGE, LA., Feb. 9.—Lonnie Eaton, the man the sheriff forgot to hang, may be dead legally, Attorney General Cook, frankly admitted today he did not know; but reports from Onatchita Parish prison, where Lonnie has been eating legally or illegally his regular three square meals a day ever since his execution was mislaid by Sheriff Grant February 4, do not indicate that his appetite has suffered because of his possible demise.

Sheriff Grant wrote the governor yesterday that in the press of "civil and criminal matters" February 4, he utterly forgot the mandate to put the negro, convicted of the murder of a white man, to death on that day. The sheriff didn't know what to do about it. He had no warrant to execute his prisoner on any other day and asked for instructions.

The governor turned the matter over to Attorney General Cook, who is making the law books for precedents. It was said the once in jeopardy principle of law might prevent any execution. In the meantime, the negro is physically alive and the board of pardons still has before it an application for clemency in his case.

The attorney general issued a statement today declaring that from investigation of the Eaton case as a member of the board of pardons he believed the negro "should not be hanged." He added that had he known that the date of execution had been set he would have called Governor Parker's attention to a request for reprieve, and commutation of sentence by Sheriff Grant, who had asserted that to hang Eaton would be "a travesty on justice."

"My investigation showed that the killing of the white man for which Eaton was found guilty was done in a 'gray,'" Attorney General Cook said.

GOVERNOR SIGNS MILLER ENFORCEMENT MEASURE

COLUMBUS, O., February 9.—The Miller bill providing machinery to enforce the Craggie act and the state constitutional prohibition amendment now is a law. It was signed by Governor Davis shortly before noon today and filed at once with the secretary of state.

The pen with which the governor signed the bill will be presented to Senator William Miller, author of the bill, as a trophy. It is expected that the governor will name a prohibition commissioner within a few days and the commissioner in turn will appoint ten of the 20 inspectors and a deputy commissioner. According to dry leaders it is the plan to have the prohibition commissioner and his deputies devote most of their time for the first few months in the instruction of local authorities relative to the enforcement of the Craggie act, rather than to initiate prosecutions directly.

While the Miller bill prevents search and seizure of private homes without warrant, it strengthens the search and seizure clause of the Craggie act in that it permits the search and seizure upon warrant of liquor unlawfully possessed or unlawfully manufactured in any place. Under the Craggie act it is necessary to prove an unlawful sale before contraband liquor can be seized. Nothing is said in this law about unlawful possession or unlawful manufacture.

The Miller bill also gives the governor greater power over local officials. It will enable him to remove any local enforcement officials for failure to enforce the laws and Governor Davis in a statement issued recently, announced that he would insist on local enforcement officers doing their duty.

British Foreign Office Denies Responsibility For Statement

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 9.—By direction of his government, Leslie Craggie, British charge here, called today on Secretary Cully at the state department to formally deny published reports that officials of the British foreign office had told American newspaper correspondents in London that "Great Britain and America were treading the path leading to war."

LONDON, February 9.—The foreign office today issued a statement declaring to be without foundation reports published in the United States Tuesday to the effect that an official of the foreign office had uttered a warning of the increasing seriousness of Anglo-American relations. The statement said:

"The statement on Anglo-American relations quoted in the English press this morning as having appeared in the American press was made without the authority or knowledge of the foreign office, and does not in any way represent the views of the foreign office upon the present or future state of relations between the two countries.

"On the contrary, the foreign office is confident that any question arising between Great Britain and the United States can and will be settled without difficulty, whether by the existing or succeeding administration."

Italy Leads

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 9.—France has the greatest standing army in the world, according to information sent to congress today by Secretary Baker, but counting its active and reserve forces Italy is the world's leading military power.

France's regular force is 732,000, consisting of conscripted French and colonial troops, and in addition it had 1,560,000 men enrolled in the reserves. Italy's regular force numbers 350,000, but its reserve consists of 4,627,000 men, including 3,000,000 mobile militia of the first line, 1,000,000 territorial militia, a second line reserves and 114,000 carabinieri and royal guardsmen.

Japan's military forces, according to the secretary's figures, comprises 1,918,000 men, including a regular army of 274,000, a first reserve of 512,000, a second reserve of 607,000, a national army consisting of men between 37 and 40 years, of 246,000 and 200,000 men enrolled for replacements.

Great Britain's army of white troops totals 295,000, the report said, with 130,000 additional native and colonial troops, plus 233,000 men in the territorial armies.

Regarding the strength of the Japanese army next year, Mr. Baker said:

"It is known on good authority that it is in excess of that for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1921."

The figures furnished by Mr. Baker were in response to a request from the senate military committee, which desired to consider them in determining the size of the American army next year.

Big Revival Closes Tonight

Rev. H. Stewart Tillis preached a strong sermon last night at Solotoville Baptist church on "Jesus, the Good Shepherd Who Laid Down His Life for Us." The Great Shepherd who lives to keep us, the Chief Shepherd who will come again and take us to Himself, that we might be with Him eternally in the heavens.

A large audience was in attendance and was intensely interested in the message. The people of Solotoville are beginning to see the difference between the real gospel of the grace of God given alone through faith in the atoning blood of God's dear Son and this spiritual, fruitless, dry, dead twentieth century modernism as preached by some so-called ministers of the gospel of today. The true gospel of God's Son brings peace, rest, for liberty of conscience, victory over sin, separation from that which is unclean and flows the soul with a passion for lost souls.

Again a number came to the altar at the close of the service and accepted Jesus Christ as their Savior. Services tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Sermon by the pastor. Come and enjoy a feast of good things with us.

Believe Attempt Was Made To Blow Up Russell Y. M. C. A.

ROXTON, Feb. 9.—A terrific explosion about 1:30 this morning at the Y. M. C. A. in the Russell yard created intense excitement and considerable damage in the rear of the building.

The indications are that a stick of dynamite or some other powerful explosive had been thrown on the roof of the kitchen in the rear of the building. Only a small hole was blown in the roof, but the force of the explosion was shown in the interior of the kitchen where the boarding was ripped off and considerable damage wrought. All the windows on the east side of the building were shattered.

The explosion was plainly heard in Roxton.

The explosion created great excitement at the Y. M. C. A. and throughout Russell. The only theory advanced is that a deliberate attempt was made to wreck the building.

Having no funds the defendant was committed to jail.

Clay Mitchell was dismissed, the evidence failing to show that she in any manner had connection with the operation of the stills.

According to the officers, Philpott admitted following his arrest by Sheriff Ricker and Deputy Dunham this morning, that he was the owner of one of the two stills captured at Big Run Sunday night and that he assisted Mitchell in operating it for a period of two weeks.

A warrant was issued from Squire J. X. Kates' court at Garden Tuesday for the arrest of Randall C. The complainant in the case is Hazel Blackburn, aged 16 years, who claims Blackburn is the father of her unborn child.

Big Revival Closes Tonight

Rev. H. Stewart Tillis preached a strong sermon last night at Scotchville Baptist church on "Jesus, the Good Shepherd Who Laid Down His Life for Us." The Great Shepherd who lives to keep us, the Chief Shepherd who will come again and take us to Himself, that we might be with Him eternally in the heavens.

A large audience was in attendance and was intensely interested in the message. The people of Scotchville are beginning to see the difference between the real gospel of the grace of God given alone through faith in the atoning blood of God's dear Son and the spiritualism, dry, dead, twentieth century modernism, as preached by some so-called ministers of the gospel of today. The true gospel of God's Son brings peace, rest, joy, liberty of conscience, victory over sin, separation from that which is unclean and fires the soul with a passion for lost souls.

New Boston Council Takes First Step To Pave Gallia St.

New Boston council has decided that Gallia street, through Peabody addition shall be paved this year and Thursday night took its first step toward the paving. The first move is passing of an ordinance vacating the old part of Gallia street not used in the new street through this addition.

The small parts of the street vacated, without condition, revert to the property owners on the north side of the street. The vacating ordinance was given its first reading at the meeting of New Boston council Tuesday night. An ordinance passed several years ago providing for the paving of the street, was with the condition that the Peabody Realty Company was to stand part of the expense. The new legislation to be passed is, without condition, the village to do the paving on the assessment plan. The village engineer has been ordered to prepare estimates for contracts. Plans and specifications are already drawn for the paving.

TWO BANDITS SWEEP UP LOOSE COIN ON COUNTER

MARION, O., February 9.—Two unmasked robbers at noon today robbed the Marion Building, Savings and Loan Company of all cash in sight on its counters and escaped in an automobile. The exact amount taken has not been learned, but it is estimated at several thousands of dollars.

No customers were in the building and loan office when the bandits entered and at the point of revolvers forced the lone teller on duty to hand over all the available cash. Just three years ago bandits robbed the same company of $4,600 in cash, locking a girl cashier in the vault.

A lousy check made by bank officials showed that only $272 had been taken by the bandits, the police announced.

PEPTO-MANGAN BUILDS HEALTH

Pale Face, Dull Eyes, Drooping
Shoulders, Result From Clogged Blood

If your blood is in bad shape it shows up in your looks and feeling. When your blood is rich with red corpuscles your color is better—your lips are red, eyes wide open and bright; your good feeling shows in your actions.

Common sense will tell you that if weak, thin blood makes you look lifeless, it lowers your vitality. If your vitality is low you have little power to resist disease germs. Men, women and children with rich, red blood are able to fight off the germs which bring severe illness.

When you feel run down and weak, with no appetite and no ambition, take Pepto-Mangan for awhile. It is a great blood building tonic. You should begin to feel better within a few days.

Pepto-Mangan is put up in both liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer, because they have the same medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package—ad.

cannot hope ever to become strong and well again unless they have plenty of red, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated iron does not injure the teeth nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalize worn-out, exhausted nerves and give you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. Ex-Service Men Kept In Filthy Hospital, Charge

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 9.—Former service men are being kept in private hospitals that are "indecently filthy and in which conditions are terrible," Abel Davis, Chicago, chairman of the hospitalization committee of the American Legion, declared today before the legion's executive committee.

Mr. Davis charged that after the men were placed in such hospitals, they were left without visits or inspections by representatives of the public health service. He read a report of a survey of a hospital in Illinois made by representatives of the legion. This said that white and negro patients slept in the same room and that when asked if female patients used the same bath room as the males the doctor in charge stated that "the women only remained about two weeks at a time and did not take any baths."

Service men are now being removed from this hospital, Mr. Davis said, as a result of pressure brought to bear on public health service officials.

"HAS DONE HER A WORLD OF GOOD"

"My wife is a mighty strong believer in Taniae, and, in fact, the medicine is a household treasure with us," said H. H. Atkinson, a valued employee of the Goodyear Rubber and Tire Co., living at 395 Oakley St., Akron, O. For two years her stomach was badly out of order. After eating she complained of sharp pains, palpitation and shortness of breath, and often became sick at the stomach. Her nerves were all upset and she never got any sound sleep at night. Medicine seemed to do her no good, whatever, and she got terribly weak and run-down. "But Taniae began helping her almost from the first few doses, and now it has set her right in every respect. She is sound and well, sleeps fine every night, never has a touch of indigestion and says she feels splendid. She keeps a bottle of Taniae in the house all the time and wouldn't be without it under any consideration. It has certainly done her a world of good."

Taniae is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher and Stretch Pharmacy and by the leading druggists in every town.—adv.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually setting on the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys in normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.—Adv.

GUN USER ADMITS HIS GUILT; FREE PENDING GOOD BEHAVIOR

When Peter H. Scott, aged 50 years, 1913 Twentieth street, contracting carpenter, indicted on a charge of shooting with intent to kill Mrs. Isabel Stephenson, appeared in Common Pleas court Wednesday morning and changed his plea from not guilty to guilty. Judge Stephenson continued the case for sentence and released the defendant from custody pending good behavior.

The court in giving Scott another chance warned him to refrain from indulging in strong drink in the future and to leave off gun toting, pointing to his record as a good industrious citizen and urged him to stay away from the other woman and to apply himself to his home and family. The court further said he had been advised that the persons most interested were not insisting on pressing the charge, that in view of all the circumstances the defendant was entitled to another chance to make amends for the misstep he had taken.

Prosecutor Sheppard did not oppose the action taken by the court and attorney W. R. Sprague, who represented Scott, made a strong appeal for his client, who, he said, was in poor health and pointed to his splendid record as a citizen and the fact that this was his first serious trouble. The attorney made no pretense of excusing the conduct of his client in regard to the offense charged and in fact admitted he had made a mistake and asked the mercy of the court.

The shooting occurred at the home of Mrs. Stephenson on Jackson street, where Scott had been a frequent visitor on the night of Dec. 20, 1920. The bullet struck the woman's left collar bone and lodged in her shoulder. The wound did not prove serious.

The shooting is said to have resulted from Scott becoming enraged when he discovered the presence of another man named Frank Kame, shoemaker, at the Stephenson home.

SMUTS WIN VICTORY IN SOUTH AFRICA ELECTION

CAPE TOWN, February 9.—Enormous majorities were given the South African party in Durban and Cape town yesterday while the labor party suffered a severe reverse in the Rand district. In Cape town the South African party gained two seats, in Durban three; in the Rand eight, and in Johannesburg one.

The victory of the party headed by Prime Minister Smuts is attributed to the fact that working men voted by General Hertzog and did not pay much attention to sectional issues raised by labor leaders.

Tuesday's elections in the Union of South Africa were considered as vitally important to the future status of that British dominion. General Jan Christian Smuts, prime minister of the union, headed the South African party, which represented the larger British element of the population, and Dutch, who believed that in the union had been found the solution of the political problems of the country.

General Hertzog sponsored a policy which virtually amounted to secession from the British empire and numbered among his followers many of the men who fought with the Boers against Great Britain. Frederick H. Creswell was leader of the labor party during the campaign and it was charged that a strike was called in the Rand district for the purpose of consolidating the ranks of the labor organization.

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Am coming to you for some information, which I shall greatly appreciate if you can give. Is there any way of growing long, lustrous eyebrows and lashes? If so, I would be very much pleased if you would print it in your column.

Also what can a person do for their skin so that they will not have to use a lot of powder and other cosmetics? My skin has gotten so that I can't put powder on it and make it look nice, and I cannot go without any for my skin is broke out and red and rough-looking. Is there nothing, whatever, that I can do to have a soft pink-and-white complexion?

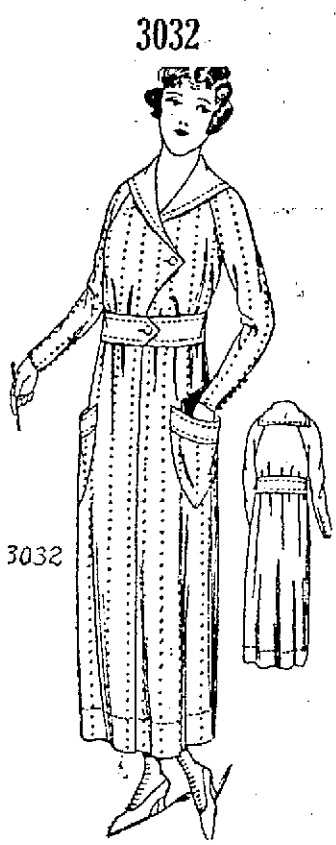

Now, Miss Wise, I shall be very grateful to you if you can supply me with this information.

Sincerely yours,
ZOE.

For your eye-lashes and brows, trim the lashes a tiny bit or have some one do it for you, then rub white vasoline into the lashes and brows every night to promote the growth. For your complexion, be very careful of your diet. Judge that you have an oily skin, so beware of fats or sweets. Eat plenty of fruit and green vegetables, drink plenty of water. You might try drinking a half-teaspoon of baking soda in hot water three times a day. Then treat your face to a ten minute massage every night after bathing with warm water, rinsing with cold. For the massage, use a good cold-cream.

Dear Dolly:—A few days ago a South Portsmouth reader wrote you, the party spoke about just lately moving to our village. I am a life-long resident of South Portsmouth and don't know of anyone who lately moved here. Now, Dolly, if I was a married woman and had a good husband who provided a good home for me and didn't leave every change of the moon, why I would not care who peeped at me. As for visitors and callers, why, we just can't help looking at them, especially when they dance all the way up the walk and show us the

Dear Miss Wise—I am thinking of getting me a violin and want to take lessons. Could you tell me where I could take lessons and what it would cost? Do you think anyone could learn to play that never knew anything about music? INTERESTED.

Send me a stamped, addressed envelope and I will send you names and addresses of violin teachers.

Dear Miss Wise—In Monday's Times (Feb. 7th) I noticed that some sort of a petition was received by local citizens, said petition advocating changes in the Army of Occupation along the Rhine. Can you tell me by whose authority they are circulated? Do they emanate from Germany or from an allied country?

I cannot tell you, but would suggest that you ask those who are circulating the petitions.

Dear Dolly—Tell me how a married woman should sign her name. When one receives a formal invitation to an "At Home," which she cannot attend, is it proper to mail one's card to the hostess on the day of the reception. When one receives a wedding announcement, how should they reply.

MISS WANTS TO KNOW.

In formal or business letters, sign your name (Mrs.) Myrtle D. Blank. If you cannot attend the reception, you might mail your "regrets" to the hostess a day or so before the party, saying: "Mrs. John F. Blank regrets that she cannot accept Mrs. George Smith's kind invitation for Thursday, January 14th. As to the wedding announcement, if you are particularly good friends with either party, send an informal note of congratulation. If they live at a distance, otherwise, call on them in their home.

Dear Dolly—I read in Saturday's Times that the Commissioners were going to reduce the wages of the poor laborers from thirty cents to twenty-five cents an hour and ten-centers to $4.00 per day.

Just think, only a few weeks ago the Commissioners went to Columbus to get an increase in their salaries. A commissioner is to get $1200.00 to $5000.00 according to the population of the county.

Now, the commissioner does not use all his time in the performance of his duty and draws his full salary. Probably a week in each month. Is all the time their own? Once a month the County Commissioners and Auditor visit the County Jail and get a big feed (you read about in the paper) and the taxpayers foot the bill.

The poor laborer works eight hours a day, six days a week (when it doesn't rain or has work), he makes $2.00 per week. Commissioners have it much easier, use county autos to transfer themselves to and from a very bad road (which I know are very hard to find) and receive their very handsome salary for a few days' work. I think many offices could, and should be abolished.

It seems the engineer has the most to do in regards to this office, anyway, and he would do the extra work and save some money for the county. How do they expect a man to live on $2.00 a day?

The commissioners draw their salary and attend to their farms besides. It seems the public officials only have one thing in view, and that is, to boost their salary and reduce the men's wages that really are deserving of more instead of less, as in this instance.

We should all be fair and give an honest day's wage for an honest day's work and an honest day's work for an honest day's wage.

BILLY WHISKER

Billy even went so far in his "spruce" as to stand in the stream where the water was so deep that it flowed through his long beard until it was washed as clean and white as snow and which, after it had dried in the sun, waved as prettily as if curled by some fashionable hair-dresser's curling iron.

There was a beautiful full moon, which Nannie said reminded her of the one that shone on the night they were married in this same pasture. For it was just as full and just as bright then as now.

There were cows, calves, goats, pigs and cats at the banquet and an old crow and owl perched in a tree near by to watch and give warning in case any approached or spied upon them. Several chickens and turkeys also made bold to roost in the oak tree before dark, so that they would be there when the feast began. They were afraid of night-hawks and weasels if they crossed the meadow after dark.

Presently, sneaking along in the shadow of the fence, came two or three sheep, then a cow and a calf, bolder than the rest, stilled down the middle of the pasture, as unconcerned as if they were merely going for a drink. Next, a sheep came running along as if exercising himself, but the old feature of all was that they carried something in their mouths, as could be seen by their shadows, as could be seen by the same place in the pasture.

"Dear-old-me!", I am sure I don't know what to carry to the banquet," mused an old black tom cat, as he prowled round the house looking for something that a goat would like to eat. "Goats don't like meat or I could steal some bacon out of the smoke house, for I see that the door has been left open. Neither do they like mice, still, I have heard that they eat everything imaginable even to fish cans, but I don't believe that. I am not inclined to believe everything that I hear. Just the same, it is getting late and I must be going or the banquet will be over before I get there. I have it. I will even down collar and steal some cold chicken from the swinging shelf. That ought to taste good to them." So down the collar steps he went, and snatched a leg of chicken from the platter, where it had been put to keep for tomorrow's luncheon.

Leaving the house, Black Jack (for that was the cat's name) ran along the garden under the currant bushes until he was out of sight of the house, then he took to his heels and fairly flew across the broad strip of moonlight that stretched between him and his goal, for it shone directly in front of the dog's kennel, and Jack well knew that it would be a life-and-death struggle if the dog caught him taking chicken from the house, for they had never been good friends and it was only because they both belonged to the same family that they put up with each other at all.

"Now, wow!" barked the dog in his sleep.

Jump, jump, jump, went the cat, tightly shutting his teeth to hold the chicken leg, while he ran toward the fence that bounded the pasture. Once outside he let the house drop to rest his jaws a moment, and then he snatched it up and ran swiftly to where the other guests had already assembled under the old oak tree.

"Here you are at last, Jack. We have been waiting for you," said Nannie.

"You are usually the first," said Billy. "I hope nothing happened to you."

"Oh, no! only I could think of nothing you vegetarians like, so I spent lots of time looking around and at last had to give up and bring something that we cats dearly love."

(And tomorrow you'll hear lots more about the banquet.)

OAK HILL

Ben Quick and Edward Coleman, two young lads of 12 and 10 years, respectively, broke into the hardware store of T. M. Jones, Saturday night and stole a large.

Early Sunday morning they were seen in Holbrookville addition.

Mrs. Margaret N. Edwards had been preparing breakfast and had just left the stove, when a shot came through the window, knocking the coffee pot from the stove. Another tore a hole in the stove pipe. The shattered glass flew in all directions, completely ruining the family's breakfast.

From here they went to the home of Fred Thompson near the ball park, where two more shots were fired. Several people narrowly escaped being hit before Marshal Tom D. Jones succeeded in rounding up the young rascals.

Several knives and a quantity of cartridges were also missing from the store. Marshal Jones took the young lads into custody, Monday, and they were taken to Jackson and placed in jail.

Meets Sudden Death

A deplorable accident occurred here when a well known citizen, Harry Williams, was thrown from his horse and instantly killed shortly after noon Sunday.

Mr. Williams had just left his home in South Oak Hill in company with his wife, Addie. Both men were mounted on horses, while near the Dale Foundry, and in sight of his home, Williams' horse became unmanageable. As he was attempting to get control of the animal, a strap on the saddle broke and the rider was thrown against the stone curbing with such force as to cause instant death. His companion, Addie, was beyond earth-ly aid. This widow, his second wife, and one child still survive him.

Her Own Career

(BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS)

REHEARSALS

The smell of the grease paint seemed like myrror to the nostrils of Gwendolyn; she grew to love it. And the glare of the dressing room, the careless give and take attitude of the girls in their hours of ease was a something most wonderful. Sometimes she closed her eyes and went back in her mind to the days at the farm. Much she marvelled to remember that her people were her people and not those. All bitterness had long since left her, and she now thought of her parents and even of the chores, once so detested by her, with a benign sort of pity and understanding. Her love for her father was strong, and several times she was tempted to write to him and confess that she was to open with the Russian Ballet shortly, and her him to come down for the first night. But thoughts of her mother and what she would say if she found out stopped her from so doing.

At the end of the second week's rehearsal Gwendolyn was quite accustomed to all phases of her new life. She accepted a rehearsal at ten in the morning, or even late, with as much alacrity as she did one called for nine-thirty at night. After all, it was all for Art's sake and Art was the new element in her life therefore no sacrifices were too great for her to make in its name!

"To be sure, all this rehearsing curtailed her own private amusement considerably. Few, indeed, were the evenings that she spent at home now, and Fern would look at her regretfully as well as a wee bit suspiciously, as night after night she failed to stay at the studio to entertain her pals.

"The crowd is wonderful, what on earth is eating you, Gwendolyn," she complained one evening after Mabel Lopez had arrived, and at sight of Gwendolyn all ready to go out had made some laughing remark about it's being most obvious that Miss Gwendolyn had more interesting entertainment elsewhere and a few other such remarks.

"Not more interesting," Mr. Lopez, laughed Gwendolyn brightly, "but an interest that compels me to give it most of my time and attention. And above all, not an interest of the heart." And with a meaning look at him.

Mabel flushed at this, and shook his finger at her, saying, "Oh, do not over believe that you are love-proof, dear lady. I know you and your type better than you can know yourself as yet. I am a Latin, and we Latin women women—well—very, very well, little Miss Gwendolyn."

"I know you do, Mr. Lopez, but I am only half a woman as yet. Nineteen is still considered a girl in our country. So you see, maybe you know women better than you do girls. At least I hope you do," she finished very gravely as though struck by a sudden thought.

"Don't wait up for me, Fern, dear," she called gently, as she ran out of the room. "No telling when I'll be in."

Congress Has Economy Streak

 The desire to maintain a large army so as to keep enough officers on duty and particularly to enable officers to hold their rank is not an insignificant or unimportant factor in the psychology of the situation.

In congress, however, there has been an abrupt return to conditions as they existed before the war when both the army and navy had to beg repeatedly for appropriations. The irony of the present situation is that while Secretaries Baker and Daniels and the Democratic administration bore the brunt of the criticism levelled by the National Security League and similar defense societies for the unpreparedness of the United States on entering the world war, it is the Republican Congress which today is compelling the reduction of the army to 175,000 and it is a Democratic President who is contending for the viewpoint of the ardent Roosevelt who used to say the peace-time army of the United States ought not be less than 250,000 men.

Congress Opposed to Cancelling Allied War Debt
 The true significance of the temper of Congress cannot be judged alone by the reduction of the army. The spontaneous outburst in the Senate against the suggestion from abroad that America be asked to cancel the allied war debt is another symptom of normalcy. Just as before the war it would have been regarded as out of the question for the United States to loan money to Europeans to assist them to reach either political or economic stability so any hint or remark that speaks of loaning money to foreign governments is promptly resented. This, however, is not only true of Republicans but Democrats. Carter Glass, Senator from Virginia, warned Europe when he was Secretary of the Treasury that America had ceased her loans to foreign governments and was going out of the banking business. Republicans are taking the same position and the move to prohibit by statute the making of any foreign loans may go through Congress more easily than most people suppose.

The reason for this attitude may be misunderstood abroad as selfishness or indifference to Europe's woes but it is really a reaction in Washington against financial transactions with Europe at a time when domestic reconstruction requires every resource. Some of our legislators, indeed, will soon begin to bemoan signs of nervousness over the payment of interest by the allies on present debts and the deferring of these payments may occasion even more controversy than the vague hints about cancellation of the principal. In other words, judging by the temper of Congress, foreign governments may in the not far distant future be pressed to pay interest on the present loans in order that the amounts which must be raised inside the United States by taxation may be reduced and thus individual income tax rates brought down.

Congress is thinking more in economic than political terms nowadays and members of both parties have their eyes sharply turned to the murmurs of the populace for lower taxes and less governmental expenditures. Congress has a genuine economy streak the like of which has not been seen in this legislative generation.

Harding Wants War Ended

broad enough to include some of the matters covered in the treaty of Versailles to which it seems the United States, under the new administration, is not to become a party.

By the negotiation of a commercial treaty to cover disputed points growing out of the war and to regulate the commercial relationship between the two countries in the future, the United States will avoid the stigma of having made a separate "peace" with Germany. It will be argued that the rest of the world being at peace with Germany this country could do no more than declare a state of war at an end. With the close of a war new commercial treaties always are in order, and so the negotiation in behalf of this country will be declared in order at once.

Plan to "Scrap" Versailles Treaty
 It is the present purpose of Senator Harding and his closest advisers to "scrap" the Treaty of Versailles in its entirety. Whether this intention will be adhered to, once the responsibility for America's relationship with the world rests finally upon the shoulders of Mr. Harding, remains to be seen. There is no doubt the fact will be borne in upon Mr. Harding that if the United States casts the treaty aside completely, history will record that the United States repudiated entirely the work of its accredited commission at Paris. There always may remain a dispute as to whether the obstinacy of President Wilson or the partisanship of the Senate primarily was responsible but Mr. Harding is cognizant of the fact that with the passage of the peace resolution and the opening of negotiations with Germany, the official act of repudiation will be a part of his administration. Some of the Senate's closest political friends are telling him he should be forever regard such a repudiation, and he appears inclined at this time to agree with them.

Colonel George Harvey spent two weeks with the President-elect at Marion recently and poured into his ears a daily barrage of hate for the treaty and all of its works.

Want To Get Republicans in Office
 Senator Harding will refer to the matter of a quick peace with Germany in his inauguration address. He believes that the official re-establishment of business relationship between the

Any slight disorder or impurities is a source of danger, as every vital organ of the body depends upon the blood supply to properly perform its functions.

United States and Germany may be regarded as an important step toward world rehabilitation. This will be especially true if the matter of Germany's reparation payments to the allies has been definitely settled and the terms formally accepted by the German government. There is a difference of opinion among the President-elect's advisers as to how beneficial the opening of the German markets to American goods may prove if the tariff wall about the United States is to be raised to the prohibitive point.

The date of the extra session of Congress still is doubtful. Two dates are in Mr. Harding's mind. The first is March 28 and the second April 4 with the odds favoring the latter. The Senate already has been called in extra session March 4 to act upon the cabinet and other appointments. Mr. Harding will hold the senate in session until the new house is ready to meet and the work of the new administration definitely is under way.

Little or no time is to be wasted in meeting the axe on all democratic office holders after the fourth of March and it is said the Senate will be able to spend at least four weeks in the confirming of Presidential appointments. All the Republicans are anxious to get the faithful on the payroll at the earliest possible moment.

Michigan Railroad Rates Raised
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—State passenger and Pullman fares in Michigan were ordered today by the interstate commerce commission to be raised to the same level as interstate rates, effective March 19.

The commission said the state legislature had set a maximum state passenger rate of 2.5 cents per mile, that this was increased to 3 cents by order of the director general during federal control and has remained on that basis since the roads were returned. The increase ordered is 20 per cent of that rate.

proceed with the investigation. He announced the first meeting next Tuesday evening at Columbus.

The plan presented by the farm organizations last night contemplated a recession from the old uniform rule of taxation which has been in vogue in the state since its organization.

Commenting upon the general proposition, Governor Davis said it is the "most decided step forward which has been taken in many years in the direction of a tax system that is adequate for the needs of the commonwealth."

"The seriousness of our taxing situation has been becoming more and more pronounced and various remedies have been suggested from time to time by different elements of our population. None of the suggestions, however, have been of a nature to serve the problem with any degree of permanency, nor to meet the general approval of all elements."

"I feel that in the suggestion of the farm organizations, the basis of a solution meeting the requirements of both permanency and general accord, is to be found."

BRINGING UP FATHER

Injunction Suit Filed To Enforce The Volstead Act In Distel Case

Another chapter to the recent prosecution of Louis M. Distel and Martin Heller on charges of selling "bitters" containing a larger alcoholic content than allowed by law was added Tuesday when an injunction suit was filed in Common Pleas court by Judge A. Z. Blalock in the name of the United States of America and on its behalf by George W. Sheppard, prosecuting attorney, under the provisions of the "National Prohibition Act" known as the Volstead law, against Louis M. Distel and others, for the purpose of enjoining and abating a certain alleged nuisance as defined in the Act and now claimed to be existing upon the premises known as the Crystal Palace pool room and soft drink establishment at 2120-2124 Gallia street owned and conducted by Distel and Martin Heller, Burt A. Monahan and Clyde Nigro, clerks, are made party defendants.

The criminal prosecution against Distel and Heller, which resulted in their conviction, is pending on a petition in error in Common Pleas court, the defendants having prosecuted error proceedings from the judgment of the magistrate in finding them guilty and assessing fines of $500 against each of them.

The petitioner says he is informed and verily believes and therefore alleges that the premises described are used and maintained as a place where intoxicating liquor, as defined by the Volstead Act, is sold, kept or bartered in violation of the provisions of the law and that the premises and all intoxicating liquor and property kept and used in maintaining the same are a public and common nuisance as defined and declared by section 21 of Title 11 of the Act.

COLDS

"Pape's Cold Compound" Breaks any Cold in Few Hours

Instant Relief! Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and sniffing! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks up any cold. The very first dose opens clogged nostrils and the air passages of the head stops nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness. "Pape's Cold Compound" acts quickly, sure, and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—insist upon Pape's!

After reciting that this is a suit of a civil nature arising under the constitution and laws of the United States, the petitioner prays that the defendants be enjoined and restrained from using or assisting in maintaining the premises as a place where intoxicating liquor is sold, kept or bartered in violation of the "National Prohibition Act" and that the court issue its process directed to the sheriff commanding him forthwith summarily to abate the alleged nuisance now claimed to be existing and take possession of the premises, to close the same and take possession of all liquors, fixtures and other property now used on the premises in connection with the violation constituting the alleged nuisance.

The court is further asked to enter a decree directing that no intoxicating liquor as defined in the Act shall be sold or stored in the premises and that the premises shall not be occupied or used for one year after the date of the decree, and in the event that it appears that the owner of the premises had knowledge or reason to believe that the same were occupied or used in violation of the provisions of the Act, and suffered same to be so occupied, then the court shall enter a decree impressing a lien upon the premises and directing that it be sold to pay all costs and fines that be assessed against the persons found guilty of maintaining such nuisance.

On the application of the petitioner Judge Stephenson issued an order commanding Sheriff Riekey to take into his possession and remove to a place of safe keeping any intoxicating liquors found at the place pending further order of the court, but the officer after a search of the premises last night stated that he failed to find any such liquor there.

No application for a temporary restraining order was made and the case will be tried on its merits at the option of the defendants, it was stated. It upon final hearing, the Volstead provides, "that in event the court orders such nuisance to be abated, the court may order that the premises shall not be occupied or used for one year thereafter; but the court may, in its discretion, permit it to be occupied or used if the owner, lessee, tenant or occupant shall give bond with sufficient surety, to be approved by the court making the order, in the penal sum of not less than $500 payable to the United States and conditioned that intoxicating liquor will not thereafter be manufactured, sold, bartered, kept or otherwise disposed of thereon, and that he will pay all fines, costs and damages that may be assessed for any violation of this title upon said property."

Organized Labor To Fight State Constabulary Bill

COLUMBUS, O., February 9.—The Harding state constabulary bill will be formally recommended for passage in the house of representatives today by the military affairs committee which endorsed the measure last night by a vote of nine to three.

Organized labor will wage a fight against passage of the bill as it has in the past. The measure has been defeated in previous legislatures. It proposes the establishment of a rural police of three troops with sixty privates each headed by superintendent and other staff officers.

The soldiers' bonus resolution, proposing the submission of a "constitutional amendment which would authorize a $25,000,000 bond issue to pay each ex-service man and woman $10 a month for each month's service with a maximum of $250, is expected to be adopted in the house this afternoon. It is made a special order of business for 2 o'clock.

Are You Suspicious of Your Health?

One may not be actually sick, yet feel so tired and languid, low-spirited and ambitious, that he can not truthfully say he is in good health. The kidneys work all the time, night and day, and it is no wonder that they become weak, sore or diseased. Nearly everybody suffers from kidney trouble—or bladder ailments. Nature gives warning signals by backache, lameness, stiff joints, sore muscles, rheumatic pains, puffiness under the eyes and blurred vision.

RELIEVED HIS BACKACHE

"It gives me great pleasure to recommend Foley Kidney Pills as in my case they relieved me of a severe backache that had bothered me for several months. A few bottles freed me up in good shape."—Joa. G. Wolf, 731 S. Jackson St., Green Bay, Wis.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

Men Catapulted Through Top Of Automobile

When It Is Struck By A Street Car

Edward Minor, Gallia street, Newmonth, were catapulted through the top of Roy Canter's Pcar onto the sidewalk Tuesday night about eight o'clock when Canter's machine and a street car collided on Rhodes avenue, New Boston, west of Peoples crossing.

Canter, who lives on Oak street, New Boston, was driving, and also was injured, but Wilbur Danner, Gallia street, New Boston, who occupied the front seat with Canter, escaped injury.

The young men were on their way to Portsmouth and were traveling at a fair rate of speed. The left wheels of the machine were in the car track and Canter managed to turn the machine sufficiently to get the front wheel off the track but the left rear of the machine were in the car track catching the rear part of the machine and knocking it around to the north street curb. When the car sent the machine crashing against the curb Minor and Chinn were thrown out through the top, and then landed on the cement sidewalk probably fifteen feet from the car track.

A passing autoist picked up the young men and brought them to a physician's office in the city. Chinn suffered a badly sprained left arm and multiple bruises. Minor received a cut on his forehead that needed several stitches to close it. His head was cut when he hit the sidewalk. Canter was on the forehead by glass from the windshield. Four stitches were necessary to close the cut.

The Pcar is practically new and the rear part of the machine was badly damaged.

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

Apply Sulphur As Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Menthos-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Menthos-Sulphur and use it like cold cream—adv.

SOCIETY

The Shriners' dance last night at the Baesman Dancing Academy was numbered among the successful affairs in Masonic Circles. The Huber Orchestra, composed of six Shriners from Columbus, having made a wonderful reputation from Los Angeles to the Atlantic coast, furnished the music for this occasion which boasted an attendance of about one hundred and fifty couples, who passed the time gaily dancing. The committee was composed of Ralph Marting, Sherrard Johnson, Carl Windel, E. A. Eymon, Robert Halslip, Harry Engles and Glen Duls.

114 EGGS A DAY NOW INSTEAD OF 25 A DAY

This Means About $126 Extra Income Per Month for Mrs. Ropp

"I have 200 hens, including late pullets not old enough to lay, and had been getting 25 to 30 eggs a day. Then I tried Don Sung and am now getting 107 to 114 eggs a day."—Mrs. S. B. Ropp, R. F. D. 2, Littleton, Ind.
Total increase of 7 dozen a day in the middle of winter, at 60c a dozen, makes $126 extra income per month. Don Sung for her 200 hens cost about $2.50. It paid her, and we guarantee it will pay you.
Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded.
Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health and makes her stronger and more active. It tones up the egg-laying system and gets the eggs so much more cold or wet the weather.
You can obtain Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or send $1.04 (includes tax) for a package by mail. Bureau of Poultry Remedies, 414 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

SOLUTION OF TAXATION PROBLEM IS IN SIGHT

COLUMBUS, O., February 9.—An announcement made last night by representatives of the farm organizations of the state that they will join other organizations in the submission of a constitutional amendment abolishing the uniform rule law taxation in Ohio to be followed by the enactment of an income tax was said today by taxation experts in the legislature to clear the way for a permanent solution of the taxation problem confronting the state.

The program is first to pass the temporary relief bill by Representative Taft permitting taxing districts for three years to make tax levies beyond present limitations, subject to approval of the electors, second to pass the Griswold bill, providing for debt limitations and then to provide for a general taxation conference which would agree upon the permanent relief measures.

The proposal for permanent relief coming from the farm organizations through L. J. Taber, master of the state grange, O. E. Bradfute, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, and C. A. Dyer, secretary of the Ohio Home Protective League, is "that either the uniform rule which has been in the constitution for over 70 years be placed in the statutes so that it can be enforced to the letter, or that a constitutional amendment be submitted to the electors at the next general election which shall provide sufficient revenues for the state and taxing districts; second, that the real estate shall never be taxed more than one and one-half percent of its true value in money, unless additional specific levies are authorized by a majority vote of all the electors voting at a general election, and third, the enactment of an income tax which shall not be imposed upon real estate bearing the direct tax."

The Taft bill authorizing cities to issue deficiency bonds for 1921 operating expenses, an entirely separate proposition, was to be taken up in the senate today.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pressler will soon occupy the home on Officers street which they recently purchased from Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Taylor. They are making some changes in their land, some new home.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief For Acid Indigestion

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food are in probability nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this source of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid and make it harmless, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as Bismuth Magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form, so be certain to ask for one properly without the aid of artificial ingredients. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for one and take only Bismuth Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose—adv.

MODERN MEDICINE ADDS ANOTHER GREAT REMEDY

The science of chemistry is continually achieving triumphs, and one of the greatest of these is perhaps to modern medicine in the production of the remedy known as LUNGARDIA, prepared and sent out from the laboratories of LUNGARDIA COMPANY, Dallas, Texas. In the space of two years LUNGARDIA has by its tremendous merit made itself known from coast to coast. Unlike any other preparation now offered to the public, no claim is made for it as a cure-all, but as a remedy for the most stubborn nature, Bronchitis, asthmatic cough or other conditions affecting the respiratory organs. Regardless of how severe a cold you may have in your chest, in practically every case LUNGARDIA will clear it up with astonishing swiftness, even after the first dose marked relief should be noted. In fact the ordinary, cough and chest cold seems to be mere playthings for LUNGARDIA. You can see the effect of this splendid remedy that you will not be disappointed in its use, that it brings relief to the most stubborn of ailments, and that it is a normal condition. Contains neither alcohol, chloroform nor narcotics, and is safe for children. You are earnestly invited to put it to the most severe test, even where other remedies or prescriptions have failed. Ask for it at any drug store, two sizes, 50c and $1.20 a bottle.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS ACTIVE

Not if you are subject to weak spells, dizziness, headache and general rheumatic pains. You may have felt out of sorts for some time and maybe have begun to lose weight. Now and then there is a feeling of dizziness, appetite lags, you yawn during the day, your back hurts but still you are not laid up. These are the danger signals that warn you to look after the kidneys. They are weak and the system retains body poisons that strong active kidneys would strain out. There is a splendid and guaranteed remedy called Solvasol for such conditions sold by Warner Bros. and other leading druggists and you should try it. If it doesn't prove satisfactory in your case simply return the package and get your money back. Be sure to try it. Weakness of the kidneys may not cause you much pain nor depression but such a condition always leaves you open to severe colds, pneumonia and most other serious diseases.—ADV.

At The Lyric Theatre Tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

A love story of surpassing sweetness built on the old tried and true triangle combination between two women and a man, is the foundation of Benjamin R. Hampton's great photoplay, "The U. P. Trail," released through W. W. Hodgkinson, the Lyric Theatre tomorrow.

The man in the case is young "Warren Neale," handsome and gallant, dashing and accomplished, played in a thoroughly fitting manner by Roy Stewart.

Kathlyn Williams is seen in the most powerful role of her screen career as a brilliant beautiful heart breaker, proprietress of a huge palace of joy, whose heart and soul fall victim to Cupid at last.

Beautiful little Marguerite De La Motte gives another of her charming and include the magnificent tapestries and hangings which go with Oriental splendor.

For three seasons Otis Skinner, on the stage played the role of Hajji the beggar and it was agreed among the critics that his interpretations of this picturesque character was perfect and the best work of his career. Edward Knoblock, the author of "Kismet," declared that Mr. Skinner's wonderful art had made a great change for the better in the character as he, Knoblock, had first visualized it. In the picture, Mr. Skinner is at his best. It is impossible to cheat the camera. The most minute detail is registered. If Mr. Skinner makes any useless gesture or facial contortion throughout his performance it is not noticeable. So clever is his work that the individual feels refreshed mentally and physically for having seen it.

This is Mr. Skinner's first picture. It was with difficulty that he was persuaded to leave his beloved stage to appear on the screen. In fact he only consented when reminded that the screen would perpetuate "Kismet."

In addition to the picture, Princess Overy, famous Egyptian dancer appears at each performance in person in a series of Egyptian dances that are a genuine sensation.

Conflicts (3)—At Chicago—May 1, June 26, and September 11.

CHICAGO, ILL., Jan. 10, 1921

No change shall be made in this schedule that will conflict with the American League schedule, copy of which has been handed to the National League Committee by Mr. B. B. Johnson, Chairman of the American League Schedule Committee. Double-headers must not be created on conflict dates save by American League consent, to be secured through its President, B. B. Johnson, except on the last trip, if absolutely necessary.

CLEVER PAIR TO SWAP PUNCHES IN LOCAL RING

Boxing fans of Portsmouth are to have a chance to see two of the fastest boxers in the country Saturday night, when Jimmy Katz and Johnny Andrews clash in the main event at the Auditorium Saturday night, Feb. 12.

Katz hails from the Toledo Athletic club. Andrews comes from Monroe, Mich. They are bitter rivals and a victory for either one here Saturday means much business for the balance of the winter in Toledo and Detroit, where they are popular.

Springfield managed to match this pair some time ago and a wonderful battle resulted, to be called a draw by the referee. Both are training faithfully at their respective gyms, and for Saturday night's bout, and both have declared that they will be returned winner or know the reason why.

There isn't much choice between them, to tell the truth. They have met and defeated the same boys. Both have about the same experience and both like to fight.

When they met at Springfield there wasn't an idle second in the eight rounds. They welcomed the chance to meet here for 10 rounds.

LINCOLN BANQUET

The third annual Lincoln banquet to be held at Calvary Baptist church will be held Friday night with Attorney Mark A. Crawford as the speaker. Final arrangements were made Wednesday for the evening's entertainment. The supper will include roast pork, mashed potatoes, gravy, apple sauce, scalloped corn, slaw, pickles, rolls, jelly, peach pie, a la mode and coffee.

WITH THE SICK

Mrs. Amelia Lods, of 123 Second street, is recovering from an attack of facial erysipelas.

There is not much change in the condition of Frank B. Kehoe, who continues ill at his home on Fourth street.

Mrs. Alex Kelso, of Kinney's Lane, has entered Schirman Hospital, where she will receive medical treatment.

Mrs. Samuel Evans, of 905 Fourth street, is recovering from an operation for the removal of her tonsils.

Deal Is Closed

Through a deal closed Wednesday Walter H. Gableman of the Playhouse disposed of his newspaper and magazine agencies to A. W. Whetstone. The latter was formerly superintendent of the Ross county schools.

Auto Hits Curbing

An automobile driven by William Morris was damaged when it collided with the curbing near Eleventh and Gay streets this afternoon. The right front wheel was smashed.

Selby's Bowling League

In the Selby Bowling League Tuesday night, the Wreckers lost two out of three to the Stabbers, the latter taking the last two after dropping the first to the Wreckers. Anchor man Drennan was high man of the evening, with a total of 494, but he could not beat all of the burden and consequently his five lost. Sikes, with 451, was high man for the winners. two teams who head the league.

The Selby Culls battled with the High School Faculty, the Culls winning by good margins. The scores were 21-17; 21-15; 21-13. The teams lined up as follows:

Selby Culls—Griffith, Hook, Lorey, Selby, Freeman, Hanck.

Faculty—McComb, Eccles, Appel, Walden, Jones, Massie.

The Allies were the losers in the Selby Dubs-Alles game, the Allies not making much of a fight in the three contests. The Dubs with Goddard serving in old time form and the returning by Ruggles soon put the games on ice, the Allies not having a look in on victory. The scores were 21-5; 21-11; 21-11.

The lineups were:

Allies—Heer, Jordan, Lowry, Arthur, Garber, Campbell, Herms.

Dubs—Wiles, Selby, Weinbrener, Ruggles, Goddard.

The popular Adams county jurist established a splendid record by his work on the bench during the six

A DOUBLE ASSUMPTION

HERE is considerable criminality of violent form prevalent in the country at present, as it has been ever since cold weather set in.

Robberies, burglaries, blowing up of safes in banks and stores form the front pages of the daily papers.
It is a common outcry that these misdeeds are far more numerous than ever before and in an attempt to account for the condition every writer lays the blame on the war and chiefly on those who participated actively in the war.

The first assumption has no more substantial basis than our American penchant of running to the extreme and the superlative. Identical conditions to those reported now have prevailed in every big city for a generation, at least. Every winter lapsing experienced a more or less of demoralization and depravity than the one that had gone before. Viewed critically the immediate cause of the crime is the particular kind of criminality. It may be somewhat more excessive because the hard times that have fallen upon many, but really not seriously so.

The second common assumption that it is the men of the service who are perpetrating all the violence, or at least responsible for the excess thereof is equally at fault. It is a part of that flub-dubbery of psychology that has become such a pest. Some bright fellow proposed it as a plausible explanation for a condition that was merely pre-dicated, and responsive to a popular pretention, it became the adopted rage.

ACCORDING TO HER RECORD

FINANCIAL and diplomatic circles in this country are finding further concern under the persistent rumor that England is going to propose a return to bimetalism.

The worry is not in any supporting information, for the rumor hasn't taken any definiteness of origin, but in its simple plausibility and probability.

England has ever played fast and loose with basic currency, ever evincing friendship, it may be said, with the munition of inquiry. If it favored her commercial and financial interests to be for a single gold standard, a single gold standard she had; if it served her best to have bi-metalism, bi-metalism she had. It all turned upon whether she was a debtor or a creditor nation. Just now she is a debtor nation, the money sceptre has passed from her, lestwise it is rapidly slipping to the United States and she owes a huge war debt besides which, considering resources, our's is as nothing. Just now, too, she is a debtor nation. It would stand her well in hand to have bi-metalism, until she got firmly on her financial feet, so to speak.

By the reverse token that would not be a favor to America, because it would lessen the value of the obligations due her and all securities, so the financiers say, and as an equal evil, it might resuscitate one William Jennings Bryan, two things in conjunction, not to be so much as endured in thought.

A thousand men, well, may be not quite so many, have remarked to us within a week: "What's the use of a fellow going south this kind of a winter?" We agreed heartily with them, of course. Well, admit any old time we got either the best or the worst, as there is nothing like bragging on your town, one way or the other.

Lloyd George tells Germany the indemnity assessed against her is proper and she will have to pay it. It may be proper all right, but as to Germany paying it that is another matter.

For the delectation of our Republican friends we will inform them here that Bryan and Harding are hob-nobbing again down in Florida.

Seems worth while to say congress is not going to pass the special tariff bill. It was never intended it should.

W. F. G. Harding, governor of the federal reserve system, tells us the country is all right and is coming back strong and soon. Thanks for those kind words.

No vision here that justifies the assembly in putting itself on the back because it defeated the proposal to give county officials a four instead of a two year term. The interest of the people, no matter whether they realize it or not, is in having good officials. Every two years is too frequent to choose them, whether good or bad.

PUT THE DESERT TO WORK

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 9.—There are over two million acres of desert and unproductive land in five western states, which are at present of practically no value to any one. This land not only produces neither food nor taxes, but it is also a burden to the railroads which are forced to cross the desert wastes between east and west without gaining either freight or passengers.

At the same time there are in these regions great streams, which are almost as useless as the deserts. Some of them irrigate little patches here and there, but most of their waters go to waste, and all of the great power which those waters gather in their descent from the mountains goes to waste.

Now this country is suffering from too much money, from over-production, and from consequent unemployment. And the number of unemployed is being constantly swollen by immigrants.

Why not let the United States government gather these idle men and put them to work damming these streams, capturing their power, irrigating the waste lands, making farms for the men who are out of work?

This question former Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane puts to the American people. Mr. Lane, since his retirement from the cabinet, has been the vice president of an oil company. But he has by no means renounced that interest in the development of the public domain which brought him into the cabinet. He urged a systematic reclamation of the arid lands of the west as a means of providing returning soldiers with farms. A complete and detailed plan was offered congress, but congress was too busy to attend to it.

Secretary Lane points out again the great opportunity that is waiting in the west, and how it may be taken advantage of in such a way as to relieve the stress of threatened hard times.

What he offers is again a complete and well considered plan. The objection will be offered that a people overburdened by taxes resulting from a great war is not in a position to undertake an enormous public work, whatever its value. Mr. Lane replies that this work can be financed by a tax-free bond issue, with the farm lands and the power which the project will produce as a security.

Lane Offers Complete Plan
Mr. Lane says that anybody can secure the advantage of a reclamation project, because the proposition is so clear and simple. Here are one million acres of land, a little owned by individuals, some by the states, some by Indian Reservations, most by the United States, and some by the three railroads that run through the desert country. Taken as a whole the land is worth five to fifty cents an acre as it is now.

Practical engineers, skilled at this kind of work, have estimated conservatively that they can build three dams and power plants, on the Colorado river, which runs through this country, make available enough water to irrigate all of this desert million acres, and at the same time produce over one million horsepower in electrical energy. The cost of the whole operation is estimated at from fifty to eighty million dollars.

Because of the many different interests involved, Mr. Lane does not feel that this could be accomplished by private enterprise. He says that it is essentially a public work, and that is where his bond issue plan comes in.

The railroads and the municipalities near the desert are in the market for all the power as soon as it is developed. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad has proved the immense advantages of using electrical power in the propulsion of its trains. The results are known to the officials of all the railroads that cross the desert lands. They would be poor business men not to buy all the hydro-electric energy they can use. They want to do so.

Mr. Lane feels sure that there could be made a general bond, covering the security of the improved land at about fifty dollars an acre (about one-fourth the current price of fair irrigated land) and the contracts of the proposed power users, making a bond something like the present farm loan bonds. As in the case of the farm loan bonds the National Government would add its backing and endorsement. The bonds should be free from taxation because they are to be used to create taxable property and for the public good.

With the present effort to reduce the expenses of National Government, this plan would not conflict, because these bonds would go at once on the open market for government securities. Being of the highest security and tax free, they will get a good price at once. It is to be remembered also that in making these bonds tax free, the government will be a large beneficiary, because the proceeds of these bonds are not to be used for government tax free expenditures, but are going at once to create industries subject to all federal and state taxes.

A Bond Issue
While Mr. Lane was secretary of the interior, he had a conference with some of the largest bankers and bond dealers in the country to ascertain their views on his project of providing farms for the returned soldiers. These distributors of securities told Mr. Lane that a half billion dollars worth of tax free bonds, paying 3 1/2 percent could be absorbed at once.

Mr. Lane thinks this equally true of the reclamation project bonds on the plan he has outlined.

Mr. Lane points to the Roosevelt Dam and the resulting irrigation of nearly two hundred thousand acres of land, besides the production of over two hundred thousand horsepower in electrical energy. The farmer is now paying less than four dollars per acre per year for the water he uses on his land and he has water when he wants it. The city of Phoenix and its people are getting cheap electric light and power and so are the smaller cities throughout the region. And the result of these successful workings is that the whole undertaking will be fairly paid for by these earnings before it is all due, and that thereafter the farmer will get his water for irrigation free, because the power revenue will be more than enough to meet all the operation expenses and replacements.

Before the water came to them the lands that now receive water from the Roosevelt Dam were mostly worthless deserts. Now they are valued from two hundred dollars per acre upward. Under the cotton-growing excitement last year some of the Salt River farms sold above seven hundred dollars per acre.

If the only purpose of developing these lands was to add to our arable territory, and to increase the wealth and productivity of the United States, it would still be a splendid business for the government," says Mr. Lane. "But it means also that thousands of citizens will be made independent workers, contributing handsomely to the general welfare, without any cost to the National Government. It would seem to be our imperative duty to get started at once and get some of the idlers out of the cities to work on these projects."

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, February 9.—When the shadows fall over Washington Square, the great arch gleaming white in the night, the basement cafes and queer eating caravansaries light up for the night. All day they are lifeless and shuttered. The slummers stream in from off the buses. Those who are known register the proper wink and are brought forth, tasting drinks in china cups. Soon eyes begin to sparkle and an easy camaraderie is established.

The queer characters of the living attic dramas seep in. Marriage is looked upon lightly down there. The women boast openly of having "left Ted to go to live with Jack." "Ted quit work when he found I was able to make a little money drawing fashion pictures," is the explanation. Some of the girls are mere children and yet they are old in illicit amours.

The love of art is supposed to be the magnet that attracts them but the truth is that it is free meals and $2 a week attic room—with no questions asked. Art is really the camouflage. It is like trotting out the artillery to shoot at a clay pipe seriously to consider the artistic side of their lives.

That does not mean that there are no artists and writers of great ability in Washington Square sections. Far from it. There are many, but they are not on display nightly in the Purple Papp, Mauve Moon and Cerise Cat restaurants. They are doing "bigger things than discussing Freud and sex."

Greenwich Village is supposed to stand for art with a capital A. The art there is representative mostly of the swiftness of men and women too. As a matter of fact there is no real artistic colony save perhaps on West Sixty-Seventh street, where a number of artists have purchased apartments in co-operative studio buildings. But they do not cadge meals in cheap restaurants. They dine in regal style and ride in limousines.

The so-called artistic quarter of Greenwich Village is known by other names in other localities. That name is the Red Light District or The Tenderloin.

Philadelphia may be asleep but a couple of song writers over there are wide awake. Most song writers pad a path to the music publishers' doors trying to sell their wares. These two wrote the words and music to a song called "Nestle In Your Daddy's Arms" and at their own expense had orchestrations printed and distributed to all the hotel orchestras and dance places in Philadelphia, and then asked music scouts from New York to come down and hear it. Soon the retail stores had calls for it. The popularity spread to New York, where it raged in the cafes, and now it is known in Tin Pan Alley argot as a "natural"—which means a hit.

A beauty parlor in the Seventies would seem to be the local headquarters of aggressive feminism. A sign in the window there reads: "Manicuring 50 cents."

A silk suited young man in evening clothes stood in front of Sherry's that was after midnight holding unsteadily to a sign that he'd a great clock. Sherry's Fifth Avenue place is now a bank. The young man was weeping. When a policeman came along to find out what troubled him it was some time before the young man could restrain his sobs to reply. At last he said: "I was just thinking of the orange blossom cocktails and the plates of salted nuts they used to serve here." Then he straightened up, looked at the policeman and said thickly: "Officer is it true that we are going to have prohibition?"

Several years ago he held political office in Indianapolis and gained a reputation as being a boss on a minor scale. He is about forty-six years of age, married and has two children. In recent years he has taken no active part in politics. During the war he headed a Moose organization which functioned on the French battle front. Davis himself spending over a year over there.

He is said to have amassed a small fortune from his savings while a pud-dler, and to have greatly augmented this by his investments and earnings since becoming one of the big men of the Moose order.

When Father Took a Spell
My father was the dearest man,
So kind to Bud and me;
But sometimes he would take a spell,
'N' be cross as he could be.

Nothing we did could him then please,
He frowned at all of us;
A sore-head he'd had naught on him—
He sure would pick a fuss!

But for his case there was a cure,
When 'er the time was ripe;
If by in words I joyed to hear—
"Go, Sir, and bring my pipe!"
—Emma, Dutton Vaughn in Cartoons Magazine.

Wise Jottings
Millionaires are always capital fellows.
It takes a woman to smile when her rival is pruned.
When a girl declines a proposal of marriage it is a wedding clock.
Why is the candy shop always on the ground floor and the dentist's office four flights up?
It sometimes happens that the woman who is disappointed in love isn't disappointed in marriage.
If a woman would always write the postscript first it would save her the trouble of writing the letter.

Our Day
The sky is like a perfect flower
Made daisy-round, to touch the rim
Of earth and scatter there a shower
Of golden pollen from the sun:
A world so bright makes heaven seem dim
Until the stars plant, everyone,
A yellow lily or a white,
Along the empty fields of night.
O day, you have been made for us!
Dawn came with the roses in his hands.
And purple as convolvulus
The dewy grey of hill-sides grew.
As morn and evening trumpet blew
To wake the green of harvest lands.
And when the petalled line of day
Is folded in the heaven earth chest,
The golden sun pollen sweet away—
By witches that at twilight rove—
Somewhere that every heart of love
Will break in blossom in the west;
A white moon-wave, a sunset foam
To chase us round and take us home.
